

For Immediate Release 11/13/15

The 4th annual production of Lil Be finds the True Meaning of Christmas is here! Studio Inc. presents their annual all youth production which features dancing, acting and songs of the season. The immaculate Carver High School Auditorium will be the backdrop of this hometown favorite. On Sunday December 13, at 3:00p.m. bring your family to enjoy this amazing stage play.

Join Lil Be on her quest to find the true meaning of Christmas. This inquisitive but talented little lady is always asking questions. She goes to school and asks her teacher why we celebrate this beloved holiday. Unable to get a straight answer she goes home and searches through books, and the internet to see awesome sales and jolly ol St. Nick. which makes her even more confused. Her mother Mrs. Cindy is the wisest woman she knows. As she puts Lil Be to bed that night she reads the story of the Birth of Christ. That night she is visited by the angels of Christmas past, present and future who take her on a journey she will never forget. With familiar settings like Lake Bottom Park and Peachtree Mall Lil Be is joined by family and friends who take the quest with her.

Anijah Rias, has the opportunity to play Lil Be this year . She says "I am excited to present this to the city. It's my first time playing Lil Be, but I am sure I can handle it!" Anijah is in the 6th grade a Phenix City Intermediate School. The entire cast are local youth from ages 6-17. They will showcase this musical comedy with a message to share!

Enjoy this afternoon of melodies from holiday favorites and talented youth of the Tri-City area!

Tickets are $10 adv$15door $5 for Ages 5-10 4-under free.
